Thank you for sending this. I scanned through the health questionnaire. It appears to have asked some pertinent questions about other disease that will be useful. I am particularly interested in arthritis and autoimmune endpoints.

I am going on vacation tomorrow and will return on July 14. I will review the material in more detail when I return.

Subject: Vermiculite Health Information - University of Cincinnati

Hi Bob,

In our first meeting at UC, you expressed interest in our health data from the 2004 vermiculite study and household information like showering, laundry etc...

Attached are 2 questionnaires asked during the 2004 visit to Marysville and a follow-up household contact study. Through these questionnaires, it may be easier to identify the medical / household questions of interest versus providing just a list of variables without context.

Once you have identified the questions of interest then just let me know and I will be able to retrieve the data for you.

-Eric
